

EXAMPLE: ROMANS 12:1-2

Up to this point we have been observing some important individual features that we encounter in the biblical text. Now let's try to pull all this together and apply it to one passage. Below is Romans 12:1-2. We have made numerous observations in this passage, but we have been far from exhaustive. Read over our observations. Identify other observations that we could have made.

Here is the example of observation in a passage:
